Dear Parents,

We have lots of exciting learning coming up this term, with fun trips and exciting Design & Technology projects to inspire and excite your children. I thought it may be best to put the general information and permission slips for these learning journeys in one letter, so that you are aware of dates, etc, in advance.

On Thursday 8th February, we will be finishing our next learning journey by visiting Chichester Conservancy and County Hall to engage in our very own debating session. We have a coach for 13 children but will need some help with transport for the remaining children in class.

On Thursday 22nd February, we will be kicking off our next Learning Journey with an informative trip to the Tangmere Aviation Museum, as well as other little surprises over the course of the week. For this trip, we will need some help with transport, and some parents who would be keen to stay with us to enjoy the days learning with a group of children.

All children will require a packed lunch for both of these trips. If you have prepaid for a hot school meal please cancel this well in advance of the visit to avoid being charged.

Finally, later this term, we have a fun Learning Journey based around how electricity can be used to power our world, during which the children will be designing and building their own motorised vehicles. To do this, I have ordered some resources for the children, and nearer the time we will think about other things that they could collect to help with their designs.

I have tried to keep costs to a minimum for all of these events, but would appreciate if you could help with a voluntary contribution of £7 to cover some of the expenses (transport costs, entry fees and some DT resources) of this exciting range of learning opportunities.

Further information will follow nearer the time of each event.

If you have any questions or queries, please do pop in to ask.

Kind regards,

Dan Taylor
