Dear Parents,

Creative Homework Task

We are coming to the end of an exciting first half term of Learning Journeys. One of the aspects the children have really enjoyed has been the map work. As part of our learning at home we would like the children to create their own map. They can create a map of a real or imaginary place and make it however they would like. They can add colour, pictures, labels or a key and symbols. This homework will be due in on Thursday 8th November 2018.

Visiting Workshop

Also, as a roaring start to our next Learning Journey, about the Great Fire of London, we are having a visiting workshop on Tuesday 30th October 2018. In order to cover the cost of the workshop, we are asking for a voluntary contribution of £6 per child. We apologise for the late notice of this as we have spent some time securing an exceptional workshop for them to take part in. The children will be heading to the 17th century, where life was very different for Londoners. The houses were wooden. Life expectancy was 35! And where sewage in the street was normal. They will be history detectives, finding out the answers to some of the following questions: How did the fire of London start? How did Thomas Fariner cause disaster? What happened in Pudding lane? Did people just eat puddings? This will form the beginning of the next Learning Journey where the children will be building their knowledge of life at the time and creating diaries and writing from the point of view of those who were there.

Many thanks

Mrs Jenkinson and Mrs Totman

Great Fire of London Workshop – 30th October 2018

I enclose a voluntary contribution of £6 to cover the cost of the workshop
